Russia States Her Position

CIR Anthony Eden's broadcast and the Soviet note accepting the invitation to the Sucz Canal talks make one thing fairly certain if any unanimity is reached at the London conference it will merely be on the point of agreeing to disagree.

Russin has made unmistakably plain the position she is going to take. She will insist on acceptance of Egypt's sovereign rights over the canal, recognition of the legality of Col Nusser's nationalising of the Sucz Canal Company. and denial of the necessity of creating an international agency to control and administer the waterway. decided to become the conference.

US Air Force Keserve Programme

----- Washington, Aug. 9. The Air Force, in a reversal of policy, announced yesterday that it soon will adopt the sixmonth reserve training programmo now used by the Army and Marines.

The Air Force which opposed the programme at one time and was cool to it when Congress adopted it a year ago, said it will recruit 2,500 six+ month trainees between next October 1, and July 1, 1957. Officials indicated that the Air Force expects to take in an average of about 2,000 trainees annually.

Referee First Held Up The Loser's Hand

By HARRY CARPENTER

A mistake by a star referee, Fred Blakeborough, had British and Empire Middleweight Champion, Pat McAteer (Birkenhead), in tears in the ring at Liverpool Studium on August 2.

McAteer thought he had lost his fight with Billy Ellaway, of Liverpool, But, in fact, he had won it on points, after ten memorable rounds.

At the end of the fight Referee Blakeborough walked to a neutral corner, where he totted up the points. Then he went across to McAteer's corner, where Ellaway was standing-and held up Ellaway's hand as the winner.

OVAL -- WHATEVER

Says DENNIS HART

The Ashes may be in England's safe keeping for at least another two years but England still has a fight on in the Test series against Australia. There is that final Test at the Oval. England must at least avoid defeat to win the rubber. More important she must aim to win to prove her superiority over Australia.

The way England outclassed Australia at Old Trafford is not enough. Nor was that other innings victory at Leeds.

In both cases England had the advantage of the toss and the wicket. In both cases this advantage has been exaggerated.

So even if and nagging length of Laker, any drying wicket, and yet they get first knock I reckon and their lack of strokes was Australia scored 204 against the that Australia's highest total of violently exposed. first innings total of 84.

SNEAKING SUSPICION

But England skipper Peter May is anxious to answer all the doubters by beating Australia hands down at the Oval. And I've a sneaking suspicion that he wouldn't mind if Australia won the toss,

It would give him the chance to prove that this is England's finest team in twenty years, and that takes in the time when Hutton and Compton were in their prime. This, incidentally, is an opinion shared by Aussie skipper Ian Johnson.

There can be no doubts about the bowling. Take away Laker and Lock still presents a tricky spinning problem. And the Aussies have yet to face their terrors of two years ago. Frank Tyson and Brian Statham in partnership, Indeed, they haven't come across Statham at

DEREK IBBOTSON STOLE ALL THE THUNDER, THOUGH BRITAIN WON THE MATCH

By "The Times" Athletic Correspondent

Great Britain beat Czechoslovakia in both international matches at the White City, London, on August 4' and 6, the men winning by 119 points to 93 and the women by 58 points to 46. There were several highly encouraging performances by the British athletes but in the invitation Emsley Carr Mile, iddotson stole all the thunder with a time of 3min. | HK Cricket League Annual Meet-Emsley Carr Mile, Ibbotson stole all the thunder with a time of 3min.

"I found out that because of 2nd Division (Home) v KDC | an absence of capital, French film companies have done very little since the war to modernise their studios. There is a French law which is supposed to subsidise native films in and exhibition, production which hasn't worked as wel as it read on the statute

Liberal interpretation of the law, she found, permitted producers to use their share of a special tax for actual production expenses rather than on improvements.

"However," she said with the air of a champion for a newly found cause, "there is now definite insistence on the part of the French actors technicians to modernise the studios, and the government will have to revise the law to meet this demand."

"Ambassador's Daughter," which de Havilland plays the role opposite John title Forsythe, has not suffered from leack of modern facilities, she hastened to add. In fact, the picture gains enormously drem comedy about an American Ambassador's daughter who seeks to prove a point to an investigating US Senator is set in Paris. The French needn't worry about either Olivia or their studios, it seems. The "commuter" is resolved to remain faithful to them and she will studios get modernised even if it takes some de Havilland campaigning. It's all part of Madame Gelante's new job.

Parisians are ready for special treat, a Fred Astaire-Audrey Hopburn "festival" for free. Fred and Audrey will be dancing across Paris behind a double cordon of gendarmes in the making of a musical film, "Funny Face."

The big dance number is "Bonjours Paris" and is spaced over 318 bars of music and five minutes of film and calls for the two stars as well as co-starring Kay Thompson to put in three weeks of hard work on 38 Parisian locations.

JULY EVER

The Director of the Royal Observatory reports that the weather during July was unusually dry and fine. The total rainfall of 145.9 mms was only 38% of the normal amount received, and contrasts markedly with the 619 0 mms recorded last year. In only three years-1889, 1897 and 1928-has less rain been recorded in July since the Observatory records began in 1884 The month opened with the total rainfall for the year amounting to 874 6 mms, which is £5.1 mms below normal, and closed with a total of 1020.5 mms, being 325 5 mms below normal for the time of year

Difficult Adjustments

After a long peried of institutional life a prisoner has many difficult adjustments to make on his return to society. Most penal systems now have provision for the release of periods of home leave during sentence. The system has been hi use for some time in Malaya, The object of the new rule 16A is, therefore, to allow the Commissioner of Prisons to grant leave of to facilitate their return to society.

ENDEARING PERSONALITY

Full Court And Colleagues Honour Memory Of Late Mr Clifford

Warm and moving tributes to the memory of the late Mr Arthur John Clifford, barrister-at-law, who was stabbed to death last Saturday in Des Voeux Road, was paid at an assembly of the Full Court, Judges, Magistrates, barristers and solicitors this morning.

The Chief Justice, Mr Justice M. J. Hogan, described Mr Clifford as the "personification of keenness and enthusiasm — a vigorous, able and courageous advocate who gave of his services to those who could repay him with little more than thanks."

His colleagues remembered him as "a vital and endearing personality — one of the best in cross-examination — a Counsel who lent his knowledge and skill regardless of fee."
